

Graeme Lamb

Graeme is passionate about developing people, during his career he has worked and continues to work with some of the largest companies out there- Microsoft, Fujitsu to name two. Graeme has designed and written leadership development material, co-written and delivered conferences on developing performance.

He runs his own business and is proficient in the use of MBTI (Myers Briggs Type Indicator) and other profiling tools to enable accurate self-assessment.

Happiest on his feet delivering team building and training, Graeme is a valuable contribution to the Making the Link Team.

His favourite saying is:

"My other car is a Porsche"

Personal Information

Graeme lives in London but loves to escape to the countryside whenever he can to pursue hobbies like horse riding, hill walking, sailing, scrambling and climbing.
